Foreword

ISO (the International Organization for Standardization) is a worldwide federation of national standards institutes (ISO member bodies). The work of developing International Standards is carried out through ISO technical committees. Every member body interested in a subject for which a technical committee has been set up has the right to be represented on that committee. International organizations, governmental and non-governmental, in liaison with ISO, also take part in the work.

Draft International Standards adopted by the technical committees are circulated to the member bodies for approval before their acceptance as International Standards by the ISO Council.

International Standard ISO 3419 was developed by Technical Committee ISO/TC 5, Metal pipes and fittings, and was circulated to the member bodies in November 1979.

It has been approved by the member bodies of the following countries :

Australia	Germany, F.R.	South Africa, Rep. of
Austria	Hungary	Spain
Belgium	India	Sweden
Brazil	Israel	Switzerland
Canada	Italy	USA
Czechoslovakia	Korea, Rep. of	USSR
Finland	Netherlands
France	Romania

The member bodies of the following countries expressed disapproval of the document on technical grounds :

Japan
United Kingdom

This second edition cancels and replaces the first edition (i.e. ISO 3419-1975).
