Foreword

ISO (the International Organization for Standardization) is a worldwide federation of national standards institutes (ISO member bodies). The work of developing International Standards is carried out through ISO technical committees. Every member body interested in a subject for which a technical committee has been set up has the right to be represented on that committee. International organizations, governmental and non-governmental, in liaison with ISO, also take part in the work.

Draft International Standards adopted by the technical committees are circulated to the member bodies for approval before their acceptance as International Standards by the ISO Council.

International Standard ISO 6693 was developed by Technical Committee ISO/TC 149, Cycles, and was circulated to the member bodies in September 1979.

It has been approved by the member bodies of the following countries :

Australia	Israel	Romania
Austria	Italy	South Africa, Rep. of
Belgium	Japan	Switzerland
Canada	Korea, Rep. of	United Kingdom
Czechoslovakia	Libyan Arab Jamahiriya	USA
France	Mexico	USSR
Germany, F. R.	Netherlands	Yugoslavia
